AP Literature & Composition Syllabus

AP Literature & Composition Course Overview

Advanced Placement English Literature and Composition is a challenging, multi-disciplined class which means we will read, speak, and write about literature. We will study various genres of literature by a wide range of esteemed authors to examine the interrelationships of each genre's elements, to evaluate author's purpose. You will be focusing on these seven essential skills: (1) Explain the function of character. (2) Explain the function of setting. (3) Explain the function of plot and structure. (4) Explain the function of the narrator or speaker. (5) Explain the function of word choice, imagery, and symbols. (6) Explain the function of comparison. (7) Develop textually substantiated arguments about interpretations of part or all of a text.

Each day in this course, whether here or online, you will read, think, write, listen, and speak, and learn! These are the skills expected of you and yes, they will be assessed! Careful reading, analysis, and organization of all material in both your oral and written work are essential. Come prepared to contribute every day. The purpose is to prepare you to pass the AP test in the spring and to teach you to think about and understand literature at a college level.

As a member of this course, you will be expected to be a citizen of this class and the school community. Preparation and engagement are essential. In this class you are expected to listen, speak, and act with integrity. You are also expected to honor all individuals in this classroom. Every voice matters and deserves to be treated with respect.

AP Literature & Composition Course Units

The College Board/AP Central has established a series of nine units in alignment with the skills necessary to meet college level Language Arts requirements as well as to help you with success on the test. These nine units will be covered throughout the entire year, and they build in intensity and difficulty. Poetry units are ongoing and intermingled with fiction units. The literary titles for each unit were chosen from the College Board suggested reading as well as from a list of the works which most often appear on the AP test. Due to time constraints, we may not read all titles, and we may supplement others. This is a COLLEGE LEVEL class. As a student in this course, you must have the level of maturity and skill to thoughtfully consider and analyze diverse perspectives. You must regard the reading material and subsequent class discussions with an open mind.

Grading Policy

Grading Scale: AP Literature will use the standard West Fargo grading scale. Grades will be updated weekly. AP Literature is a “weighted” course. My goal is to always keep grades updated on a weekly basis. Larger projects and writing assignments may take me longer to grade (I usually communicate that to learners).

- A 90-100%
- B 80-89%
- C 70-79%

- D 60-69%
- F 0-59%

Additional notes about grading:

- If an assignment is marked with a late indicator (red) – it was turned in late.
- If an assignment is marked with a missing indicator (orange) – I’m missing it and it needs to be turned in. I’ll clear the indicator soon after being turned in.
- If an assignment is marked with a collected indicator (green) – I have the assignment, I just haven’t been able to grade it.
- If an assignment is marked late/missing/incomplete PLUS a 0 for the grade – I haven’t received the assignment and I still need it. Zeros get learner/family attention faster than just a missing/late indicator so I’m likely to get the work faster. In most cases, a zero for missing/late work will be adjusted to the actual grade!

Evaluation Components: Areas of Assessment (Formal and Informal)

- Daily participation in class (informal)
- Daily tasks (formal)
- Major writing assignments/Free-Response Questions (formal)
- Analytical and Reflective Discussions (formal)
- Projects (formal)
- Presentations (formal)

Missing Work/Late Work Policy

- Homework will be marked as “missing” and entered as a zero until it has been completed. Any late work can be made up until the end of the unit in which it was assigned.
- If you are not going to be able to complete an assignment by the due date, use the Late Work Communication outline linked below to communicate that with Ms. Hill.
- Students are expected to complete ALL assignments
 - LATE WORK: If you are unable to finish an assignment on time, you MUST email your teacher (using template provided on Schoology or down below) BEFORE the due date.
 - Late Work Email Template
- Any planned absence, whether personal or school-related, must be communicated to me ahead of time. Please send me an email with the dates that you will be gone, and I will work with you to get you the necessary resources and materials ahead of your absence.

WFHS English Department Cheating and Plagiarism Policy

The cheating policy follows the WFHS student handbook. This includes a zero for the assignment, a PACK referral, and notification of the parent/guardian and administrator/counselor.

If caught cheating on a critical and/or common assessment, the critical and/or common assessment still must be successfully completed in order to have the opportunity to pass the class for the semester. In this instance, a zero will be given for the work; however, the work must be successfully completed in order for the teacher to evaluate the student’s skills and readiness to move onto the next course. The timeline for successful completion will be arranged between the student and teacher and will be communicated with the parent/guardian and administrator/counselor.

If caught accidentally plagiarizing an assignment (i.e. an essay or research paper), the student will have the opportunity to learn from the mistakes and receive credit for the assessment. Should accidental plagiarism occur, the critical and/or common assessment will be returned to the student for resubmission. The critical and/or common assessment will not be graded until the student has made the appropriate revisions. The timeline for successfully resubmitting the assessment and demonstrating mastery of the skills will be arranged between the student and teacher and will be communicated with the parent/guardian and administrator/counselor. Failure to successfully resubmit the assignment and demonstrate skill mastery will result in a percentage deduction.

The English department recognizes a difference between intentional cheating and accidental plagiarism. Our common definition includes:

- Cheating is the intentional use of someone else's work being presented as one's own work (i.e. submitting another student's essay).
- Accidental plagiarism is the misrepresentation of another's work as one's own (i.e. forgetting a works cited page; not attributing a quotation to the author; not understanding the correct method of paraphrasing a quotation).
- With regard to cheating, school policy will be enforced. Remember that cheating is as much a character issue as it is a policy issue.

AI Policy

AI (artificial intelligence) is an evolving and growing space as I type this. I recognize the tools available to us right now will evolve as the school year progresses. And, I fully recognize that it's ridiculous for teachers to believe technology like this won't be available to people in the future.

However, and this is the important part here, the students in my classroom still need to understand the why and how behind grammatical structures, spelling, sentence variety, and the myriad of other things real writing does. This happens by doing the work and getting "messy" with writing, drafting, and revising.

Therefore, the use of AI in my courses will be considered cheating and will have the same consequences as listed above. I am here to help you to be successful in my class and am happy to meet with you to discuss any course assignments, study strategies, and other academic matters. I want you to be able to think critically, be analytical, and be creative in your work in my class. Since the goal is for you to develop your critical thinking skills, ideas, and critical perspectives on the class materials, the use of any artificial intelligence (AI) content creation tool/system (e.g. Jasper, ChatGPT, Bard, etc.) is not permitted. If you have difficulty with an assignment, please do not hesitate to contact me.

This AI/ChatGPT policy is new territory and is evolving. It may change to align with English Department, WFHS, and/or WFPS policies. Any changes will be announced.

West Fargo High School Cell Phone Policy

West Fargo Public Schools holds high expectations for student behavior, academic integrity, and responsible use of existing and emerging technology, such as cell phones, iPods, iPads, laptops, and other personal electronic devices capable of transmitting data or images. Students who possess and/or use such devices at school or school-sponsored events shall demonstrate the greatest respect for the educational environment. Standards for responsible use at school, on busses, or at school activities:

- Students shall not use any electronic device that in any way disrupts or detracts from the educational environment. Electronic devices are inclusive of cell phones, smart watches, earbuds, and school-issued devices.
- Cell phones must be out-of-sight and out-of-use from the first bell to the last bell of all classes, including during study halls and within flexed learning spaces that are an extension of a classroom.
- Cell phones may be used appropriately and respectfully in common spaces during non-instructional times, including passing time, the student lunch period, and before and after school.
- It is the student's responsibility to secure their electronic devices to show care for their technology devices and personal information. The school is not responsible for lost or stolen items or individual service plan charges related to use of electronic devices.
- Students are expected to respect the network and adhere to the Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) when using school-issued and personal electronic devices. Students will be expected to access the district's Wi-Fi network via their iPad during designated school activities unless connections are unavailable. Wi-Fi is not available for students' personal electronic devices.
- Photographing or recording of another person should be used for educational purposes as defined by the teacher. Any use of an electronic device for other than educational purposes will result in a consequence. Messages and photos on an electronic device are subject to viewing by administration given reasonable suspicion of a crime or school infraction.
- The USE of cellular phones or other personal electronic devices is strictly prohibited in locker rooms and restrooms.

West Fargo High School Cell Phone Procedure

- The first time a phone is delivered to the Main Office due to an infraction of this policy, it will be returned to the student at the end of their instructional day.
- The second time a phone is delivered to the Main Office due to an infraction of this policy, the student must check the phone into the Main Office before the instructional day begins for the next five school days. Even if the student claims to be leaving the phone at home, they must report to the Main Office at the start of each day to check in with their administrator. The student can pick up the device at the end of their instructional day.
- The third time a phone is delivered to the Main Office due to an infraction of this policy, a family meeting will be scheduled by the student's administrator. Until the time of the family meeting, the student must check the phone into the Main Office before the instructional day begins. Even if the student claims to be leaving the phone at home, they must report to the Main Office at the start of each day to check in with their administrator. The student can pick up the device at the end of their instructional day. At the family meeting, further ramifications will be determined.
- Additional violations will be addressed by the discretion of the administrative team.

What AP Stands For

Thousands of Advanced Placement teachers have contributed to the principles articulated here. These principles are not new; they are, rather, a reminder of how AP already works in classrooms nationwide. The following principles are designed to ensure that teachers' expertise is respected, required course content is understood, and that students are academically challenged and free to make up their own minds.

- AP stands for clarity and transparency. Teachers and students deserve clear expectations. The Advanced Placement Program makes public its course frameworks and sample assessments. Confusion about what is permitted in the classroom disrupts teachers and students as they navigate demanding work.
- AP is an unflinching encounter with evidence. AP courses enable students to develop as independent thinkers and to draw their own conclusions. Evidence and the scientific method are the starting place for conversations in AP courses.
- AP opposes censorship. AP is animated by a deep respect for the intellectual freedom of teachers and students alike. If a school bans required topics from their AP courses, the AP Program removes the AP designation from that course and its inclusion in the AP Course Ledger provided to colleges and universities. For example, the concepts of evolution are at the heart of college biology, and a course that neglects such concepts does not pass muster as AP Biology.
- AP opposes indoctrination. AP students are expected to analyze different perspectives from their own, and no points on an AP Exam are awarded for agreement with a viewpoint. AP students are not required to feel certain ways about themselves or the course content. AP courses instead develop students' abilities to assess the credibility of sources, draw conclusions, and make up their own minds.

As the AP English Literature course description states: “AP students are not expected or asked to subscribe to any one specific set of cultural or political values, but are expected to have the maturity to analyze perspectives different from their own and to question the meaning, purpose, or effect of such content within the literary work as a whole.

- AP courses foster an open-minded approach to the histories and cultures of different peoples. The study of different nationalities, cultures, religions, races, and ethnicities is essential within a variety of academic disciplines. AP courses ground such studies in primary sources so that students can evaluate experiences and evidence for themselves.
- Every AP student who engages with evidence is listened to and respected. Students are encouraged to evaluate arguments but not one another. AP classrooms respect diversity in backgrounds, experiences, and viewpoints. The perspectives and contributions of the full range of AP students are sought and considered. Respectful debate of ideas is cultivated and protected; personal attacks have no place in AP.
- AP is a choice for parents and students. Parents and students freely choose to enroll in AP courses. Course descriptions are available online for parents and students to inform their choice. Parents do not define which college-level topics are suitable within AP courses; AP course and exam materials are crafted by committees of professors and other expert educators in each field. AP courses and exams are then further validated by the American Council on Education and studies that confirm the use of AP scores for college credits by thousands of colleges and universities nationwide.

Special Note

- I expect everyone in our classroom (including me) to be open-minded, curious, and respectful to everyone in the space. We will have zero patience for racist, homophobic, xenophobic, able-ist, gendered, or otherwise exclusionary language in our classroom. Our classroom is a safe space. We can challenge and disagree with each other, but we will model respectful communication and dialogue.
