Once a 'scared' 8th-grader, West Fargo's Jasmine Williams emerges as one of state's best sprinters

Once an intimidated eighth-grader, West Fargo junior Jasmine Williams shows no fear as she becomes one of the state's top sprinters.

WEST FARGO — Jasmine Williams was an eighth-grader when West Fargo's track and field coaches brought her up to varsity. It was exciting for Williams, but also daunting.

She knew exactly what she was facing.

Williams, now a junior, went toe-to-toe with some of the top sprinters and middle-distance runners in North Dakota her first year on varsity. The loaded field was filled with veterans, including twin sisters Rose and Roseline Gaye of Fargo Davies.

"I remember just a very scared girl who was pretty overwhelmed being put in that position," West Fargo head track and field coach Darin McKinnon said. "When she came up, we had her run in some relays, but she was scared."

Williams placed sixth in the 200 meters at the Class A state meet as an eighth-grader in 2018. She admits she was slightly intimidated by the big-name Gaye sisters.

Rose, who was named the North Dakota Senior Athlete of the Year, won the 100, 200 and 400 at the state meet as a senior in 2018. Roseline took second to her sister in the 100 and 200 that year, and was a part of the state-championship winning 400 and 800 relay teams.

"It was very scary going against them, but fun," Williams said.

"It's gotta be pretty intimidating at that age," McKinnon said. "We just wanted to give her a taste of varsity track and field, and certainly she has taken that and run with it."

There's nothing apprehensive about Williams anymore. She emerged as one of the state's top sprinters following a stellar freshman season, gaining confidence on the way.

"Having to run with the Gaye twins my eighth-grade year got me prepared for more competition," Williams said. "Freshman year, when the girls who I was expecting to be as fast as the Gaye twins weren't, it kind of gave me the confidence that I could beat them. I don't think I gained any confidence until freshman year."

Williams solidified herself as a dominant force in the sprints as a freshman in 2019. She won her first state title that year, using a burst down the last stretch to finish the 200 with a state-championship winning time of 25.70 seconds. Williams came just .06 seconds shy of winning a second title that year in the 100.

Williams is confident, but humble. She's aware of what she's accomplished, but not satisfied.

"Even though she's a state champion, she still knows there's more that can be learned," McKinnon said. "She's very open to having us give any extra help in any way. She knows you have to be on your game every single meet, every single race."

Williams earned an invite to compete in the 200 meters special event at the Howard Wood Dakota Relays last weekend in Sioux Falls, S.D. She placed sixth (26.33) in a field with the top mid-distance runners and sprinters across the region. Williams was the only North Dakotan in the 200 besides alternate Cece Deebom of Davies.

"It didn't go as well as I wanted them to, but it was a really fun experience," Williams said of the Howard Wood Relays. "I think I had a really off day. I burned out too soon, and that usually never happens. I don't really know what it was that made me do that. I just hope to get the experience next year and do better."

Williams is hungrier than ever for success this season, McKinnon said. The defending state champion in the 200, Williams knows she has a target on her back. But the competition brings out her best.

"There's always going to be those who are looking to outbest you. I think she puts a lot of extra pressure on herself but at the same time, she also realizes too that that's just something that kinda comes with being a state champion," McKinnon said. "She's really welcomed that and she's ready to compete at each and every meet. She doesn't like to get beat."

Williams put in work at Dynasty Performance Training last summer after her sophomore season was canceled in the early days of the coronavirus pandemic. She showed a few signs of rust when she got back on the track this season for the first time since 2019, she said.

"I didn't know how long it had been until the first meet," Williams said. "That's when it definitely hit me, when I didn't do as good as I usually do."

Williams, a captain for the Packers, is happy with how her season has gone, but has plenty left in the tank. She's not satisfied yet.

Williams hasn't PR'd — bested her personal record — in the 100 or 200 this spring. Currently, she's about .30 seconds away from that. Williams is also hoping to break some West Fargo school records.

Dragons high jumper Cook primed to take 'next step' at Division II outdoor championships

Minnesota State Moorhead senior Chris Cook is among the top men's high jumpers in NCAA Division II and hopes to add another All-American honor to his resumé.

MOORHEAD — Minnesota State Moorhead senior high jumper Chris Cook has received most of his technical instruction from Florida this spring track and field season.

An iPad placed on a tripod next to the high jump pit allowed longtime Dragons assistant Dave Bergstrom to coach from, at times, more than 1,800 miles away.

"It's been different, but it's worked. It's been good. It had to come to an end at some point," said the 64-year-old Bergstrom, who moved to the Twin Cities area about a year ago and also spends time in Florida.

"He's a great guy and all the love and respect for that man," Cook said.

Cook is slated to compete in the NCAA Division II outdoor track and field championships, which start Thursday, May 27, in Allendale, Mich. The men's high jump is scheduled for 1 p.m. Friday. Bergstrom will be in attendance at the national meet. He said it will be his last meet as he's retiring from coaching after 17 years as an assistant with the Dragons.

"It's kind of a little bittersweet there, but it's been a great run," said Bergstrom, who is a Hall of Fame member for both the Dragons and Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference.

Bergstrom won a Division II outdoor national title in the men's high jump in 1979 and holds the school's outdoor record at 7 feet, 1 3/4 inches.

"The program is going to lose something irreplaceable, having somebody like that," Cook said. "I know he will still be around. ... I don't think there's ever going to be somebody like Dave again in this program and do the things that he did."

Cook enters the national meet tied for the fifth-best performance, clearing 7-0 1/4 earlier this season. While he holds the school's indoor record (7-0 1/2), he's chasing Bergstrom for the program's outdoor standard.

"I'm very excited having this one last national meet where I get to coach. He's such a talented jumper," Bergstrom said of Cook.

Bergstrom would love to see Cook eclipse his outdoor record.

"I'm very hopeful he can do that at this national meet," Bergstrom said. "That would be a great time for him to do it. If he could break it at the NCAA meet, that would be awesome."

Bergstrom retired from his job as an actuary a couple of years ago, but continued to be a volunteer assistant for the Dragons. Bergstrom and his wife, Trish, moved to the Twin Cities area last spring to be closer to family. He was in Florida from January through the end of April.

That led to video conferencing as a solution for Bergstrom to continue coaching.

"It was not ideal, but we definitely made it work," said Dragons assistant Trevor Barry, who worked with the jumpers on their strength and conditioning to go along with Bergstrom's virtual technical coaching sessions.

Barry represented the Bahamas in the 2016 Summer Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro and was a high jump finalist, finishing 11th. He recently competed unattached at the Ron Masanz Classic in Moorhead and took first place with a jump of 7-2 1/4. Cook was second at 7-0 1/4. Bergstrom coached Barry, who was an eight-time NAIA national champion at Dickinson State, from 2011 up until the start of the pandemic.

Cook is grateful to have two coaches like Barry and Bergstrom.

"Having someone like Trevor Barry as my coach and seeing him jump, it's motivation," Cook said. "Being around people like that, seeing that everyday is amazing. I've got to take from that."

Bergstrom coached the Dragons high jumpers two times a week via video conference for practices and also used the iPad to coach during meets. He was in person for the recent NSIC outdoor championships and another recent practice. The national meet, Bergstrom said, will be the third time he's coached in person this year.

"There is no replacing Dave in person. There is a lot he brings to the table," said Dragons head track coach Ryan Milner.

"I love having Dave there in person," Cook added. "Dave's really genuine. ... He's constantly giving me advice, constantly just being a role model."

Bergstrom said coaching virtually didn't make sense beyond this season.

"The athletes deserve a live coach and that's someone who can be there for them," Bergstrom said.

Cook earned two All-American honors in 2019 before the pandemic disrupted the 2020 indoor and outdoor seasons. Bergstrom said Cook is primed for a big performance at the national meet.

"His best asset is his mental toughness," Bergstrom said. "When he gets to the big meets, he seems to jump the best. He is about ready to take that next step, which would be really exciting."

ALLENDALE, Mich. — Minnesota State Moorhead senior Chris Cook notched the fourth All-American honor of his Dragons career, tying for seventh place in the high jump Friday at the NCAA Division II Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Cook cleared 6 feet, 6 3/4 inches initially, before surpassing 6-8 3/4 on his third attempt. The decorated senior has now earned three All-American first-team honors and one second-team honor in the high jump.

The meet was also the last for longtime Dragons assistant and MSUM Athletics Hall-of-Famer Dave Bergstrom, who is retiring. Bergstrom coaches the Dragons high jumpers.

West Fargo's Sturn triple-jumps to title in 4th-ever time competing

West Fargo's Laiken Sturn headlines Class A state track meet

Written By: Carissa Wigginton | 11:17 pm, May 28, 2021

BISMARCK — West Fargo senior Laiken Sturn triple-jumped her way to a state title in an event she didn't start doing until halfway through this season.

Sturn leaped 38 feet, 9 1/2 inches to capture the Class A girls triple jump state title Friday at MDU Resources Community Bowl in Bismarck. It was her fourth-ever time competing in the event.

The mark, which was 1 foot, 6 1/2 inches ahead of second-place Bismarck Century's Hope Stein, set a new personal best for Sturn.

"I feel great," Sturn said. "Honestly, I don't think I could have done without my coaches."

Sturn wasn't expecting to land atop the podium. She jumped around 34 feet her first meet, recorded a leap of 37 feet, 7 3/4 inches at her second and in the 35s last week.

"I thought, I don't really have enough experience to say I have a consistent spot, so I had no idea what to expect," she said. "My coaches let me do it, and it ended up going well."

Sturn got one jump in prelims Friday before she had to go run the 400-meter relay. She returned to the field event after running her portion in the sprint relay, which placed sixth, and recorded her best jump.

"I was actually really happy about the weather, because I thought I was going to be really cold all day," Sturn said. "But I was able to warm up and get kind of sweaty, which actually helps me keep my muscles loose. I felt good going into it."

Sturn overcame a discouraging start to the day in the 800 relay, in which the Packers placed seventh.

"People noticed I got passed in the 4x200," Sturn said. "...I was really nervous all morning. I don't usually get nervous about meets."

Words of encouragement from her teammates, coaches and parents gave her the boost that lifted her a state title. A pep talk from Sturn's dad helped shift her mindset.

"He's usually pretty competitive," Sturn said of her dad. "But he said as long as you give everything you have and you're having fun out there, that's really what matters. I kept that in the back of my mind for the whole rest of the day."

Sturn had never long jumped before this year, either. The No. 3 seed, she'll make a bid for another spot on the podium Saturday.

Throwing out the Record Books: West Fargo's Akealy Moton dominating for Bison Track & Field

Published: Apr. 7, 2021 at 10:46 PM CDT

FARGO, N.D. (Valley News Live) - When you look at the banners hanging in the Shelly Ellig Indoor Track track facility at NDSU, there is one name you're going to see a lot of. Akealy Moton is continuing to establish her legacy as a Bison thrower. The Sophomore from West Fargo is already having a stellar outdoor season. She is currently ranked second in the nation and has already shattered her own school record twice. Her most recent record throw was in the comfort of her own track, throwing the Shot Put 17.79 meters.

"I always like home meets more because my family lives here so that's really nice to have your family around." Moton said about competing at home. "And the atmosphere from the home meet is always so much different. It's always more electric."

The opportunity to compete at her local school is not lost on Moton. In a special moment in the Bison Spring Classic, she broke the school record in front of her family.

When we asked about having her family at the event, Moton said, "That's really my support group. That's my rock. They know that. Having them there is always a lot more fun."

Despite all the success and accolades she's collected, Moton hasn't slowed down at all and is training harder than ever as she continues to shatter records.

"I try to take it one goal at a time. So right now the goal is nationals." Moton said, "And then from there thinking of the next goal. I don't try to think of all of them in a whole, at one time because that can be overwhelming so.. I take it one at a time."

She also recognizes that competing this close to home puts a lot more eyes on her. It also gives her the opportunity to inspire more local athletes.

"It's always a special experience to see the kids that you coach coming to your camps." Moton told us, "And then them possibly being teammates is nice, "oh we built this relationship now I get to throw with you instead of coach you. And you really get to see them throw as athletes and people."

Moton briefly held the #1 spot in the country before she way out-thrown later in the weekend. Time will tell on how this already historic season shakes out for this newest throwing phenom at NDSU.

Alex Talley: Determination>Doubt

ByNolan P. Schmidt

Posted on February 25, 2021

We will look back one day and continue to be puzzled at how Alex Talley was overlooked by Division I track & field programs. To this day, it does not make too much sense when you break it down. He won multiple state championships in both shot put and discus in high school. His career at West Fargo High School is as decorated as they come.

He only proved that when he arrived at North Dakota State. Currently, Talley is a two-time Summit League champion as well as a two-time NCAA qualifier. He was the only thrower in the country qualify to for both throwing events at last year's NCAA Indoor Championships.

And yet, throughout his high school career and over the course of his recruitment, he had gone overlooked. To the point that he had settled on attending one of only three schools all within the Summit League. One of those schools was North Dakota State and obviously, Talley eventually decided to stay close to home in Fargo.

"I looked at a couple of different schools in the area. I looked at UND, SDSU and NDSU. I was actually kind of torn between whether I wanted to play football or track. Alex Renner ended up doing the Packer Power training camp for my high school in the summers," Talley said of his recruiting journey. Renner is still one of NDSU's most decorated throwers to date. "I kind of got known through that and I began to look up to the guy and Alex became a big mentor for me. I took my visit there and he was there. Then I met everybody else on the team and they all acted as he did. I was like, I got to be here. I knew Renner was the real deal, so I knew the program was too.

Knowing Renner was the biggest reason why Talley committed to North Dakota State. However, that did not mean he did not have to work to get there in the first place. In many instances, Talley said he had to get his film in the hands of coaches, considering some coaches were not seeking him out. "I was really trying to seek out some coaches. I wasn't really familiar with the recruiting process. I did have my mom make a little bit of a highlight tape for my throws and I would just send it to some coaches," Talley said of his self-advertising approach. "Obviously, I went to a couple of camps. I was really looking for that coach to take a chance. Luckily, coach [Justin] St. Clair kept in touch with me after camps and would talk to me after meets and stuff."

Growing up mere miles away from NDSU's campus,
Talley was relatively unaware of the track & field program's success over the years. When he would have discussions with throws coach Justin St. Clair, he had little knowledge of just how qualified and impressive St. Clair's résumé was.

"Oddly enough, when I was in high school, I didn't realize how good the team was. I knew they were good because I've been to their meets and I knew they did very well. I didn't realize the scale of it though," Talley said. "At the time, I didn't really look at coaching accolades because I went more off of what the team was like and whether I was going to have fun with those guys. Obviously, I fit in here and that's really what drove me to NDSU. I fit in with the team well and I can tell they're all genuinely good people. That's when I knew I was going to have a good time here."

While Talley knew he would fit in with the program, that did not come without its growing pains. He had to learn a new form of throwing, which proved to be a challenge early on. "I learned to spin because I glided when I was in high school. Coming here, I learned an entirely new form. On top of that, I wasn't used to the different styles of throwing, I had never realized those," he said. "I realized that I'm kind of a shorter, stockier dude and I may not be able to keep up with someone like Max Otterdahl, who's 6-foot-10. Learning how to fit into my own body and throw in a way that fits my body type."

Luckily for Talley, that shift in form more than paid off given his success. However, once he conquered the spin, Talley wanted to continue to improve. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, Talley said it was a challenge not being able to lift on a consistent basis. He used the downtime to work on the technical side of his throwing.

"I really took that time to focus on some of the things I wasn't so good at. I couldn't really get in the gym because of shutdowns and whatnot, but the fields were open. You can always go work on footwork," Talley said. "I remember doing form in a CVS parking lot. I think there were definitely some opportunities to get better. I'm still always working towards a better form and always building strength."

While he continued to work on the physical side of his throwing, Alex Talley also faced a mental hump as well. He had just been the only man in the country to qualify for both throwing events at last year's NCAA Indoor Championships. That event was canceled while Talley was in Albuquerque, New Mexico, to compete in that meet. Obviously, this was followed up by the entire outdoor season being canceled. Those mental gymnastics became Talley's biggest struggle throughout the pandemic.

"When you have that long of a break between competition, it's easy to skip a day or take some time off. That's one thing that my teammates stepped up in, I think," he said. "Every couple of weeks to get a message about what they did that day was really encouraging and helped build our team up a lot. It was not even coaches doing the reaching out, it was teammates or friends keeping you mentally sharp."

One of Talley's goals beyond winning a national title is to do his due diligence as an upperclassman. He feels it's his place to bring the younger throwers up to speed, most notably in the weight room. One thing Talley notes as a challenge for him was getting adjusted to thrower- specific lifting. "One of the hardest things coming into college was getting adjusted to the weight room, and how to lift hard, how to eat properly. People like Steffan Stroh and Alex Renner really stepped up in that aspect for me. I needed that when I was a younger kid," he said. "I think that's one of the reasons I've been able to grow and be so successful is to learn that right away. Being able to pass that on to the younger kids is really my goal. I want to get them good physically that way coach St. Clair can do what he does best."

Alex Talley remembers the time Michael Keogan Was Instructed to power clean 95 pounds instead of Keogan's usual 195 pounds.

Since returning to the track, Talley has captured meet wins at the Dakota Duel, Bison Cup Classic, the UND Open, Dakota Quad, the Iowa State Classic and the Jim Emmerich Invitational. Currently, Talley is fifth in the country in the shot put, smashing a career record of 20.54m at the UND Open. Not just that, Talley is potentially the best overall thrower in the country. At the time of printing, he holds the second-best NCAA weight throw mark at 22.90m. He'll likely be in similar distinction come outdoor season where he will throw shot put and compete in the hammer throw.

For Talley, it just feels good being able to compete again. "Just to feel that electric feeling in the air is indescribable. I really just feel excited and ready to be going again. It's also awesome to see your friends do well. We're having the time of our lives," Talley said.

Talley takes a different approach to goals. He obviously wants to be a conference champion again and a national champion too. However, he is more focused on the steps needed to attain those accolades. If he takes those steps, Talley will be where he wants at season's end even if it means taking a day off here and there.

I fit in here and that's really what drove me to NDSU. I fit in with the team well and I can tell they're all genuinely good people. That's when I knew I was going to have a good time here.

"I want to keep practicing hard, lifting hard and get to sleep every night. That's another big one is I have to sleep every night. One thing I kind of struggle with is I have a hard time resting," he said. "I have a hard time taking the days off to recover because I want to just keep going. Just because you are throwing more does not mean they will go farther. In reality, that's not always how it works."

Whether he is taking a rest day or competing, Alex Talley always seems to be "on." The copious amount of victories in his Bison career are evidence enough of that fact. Which raises this conundrum: how did he slip through the cracks? How was he overlooked this greatly?

In reality, the answer does not matter much because NDSU did not let Alex Talley slip through the cracks. Now, they're both reaping the benefits with Talley being one of the country's best overall throwers.
